

I'm opposed to any weakening of Wisconsin's Do-Not-Call list. If changes are to be made, I'd prefer to see it in the other direction. I value my privacy and the sanctity of peace & quiet in my own home. Telemarketing calls are rude, intrusive, and a harassing nuisance. IF (and when) I'm in the market for banking services I'll call them. If I'm not, then they're paying someone to alienate me so I would never do business with that company, ever. And I NEVER donate to a charity that calls me.

Leave Wisconsin alone. Thank you,
Judy Angermeyer
